How Secession Democrats Talk in California

The Appeal gives a brief report of the speeches made at the State Democratic Convention, held last week, which we publish that those readers may see how men who once had some reputation, can degrade themselves when they please to do so We don't wonder, after reading this report of the rumor that Gen Wright was inclined to arrest the whole crowd

While the Convention was waiting for the report of the Committee on Credentials, ... Robinson, H P Barber, Hatch of Yuba, J B Weller W H Rhodes, John Bigler and P L Edwards made speeches Robinson said he would suffer anything even civil war, rather than submit to such indignities as have been submitted to Barber said he was in for the Union as it was—meaning that if slavery cannot be re-established he wants the Union broken up Hatch said our free Government had been overthrown and our Constitution made a dead letter by the vile Abolition faction Weller said the outrages committed by the Administration must cease He loved the Union, but he loved liberty more The Democrats must stick together or hang together The accursed Abolitionists have destroyed the best Government that ever existed It is no time to quarrel while the common enemy is in the field Rhodes said they had met to determine whether they should be the proscriptors of slaves or whether they should roll back the tide which threatens to overwhelm them The tyrants must remember that if the Democratic eagle has two wings, it also has talons to tear and a beak to dip in their hearts blood They (Democrats) must water the tree of liberty with their heart's blood if necessary. The Administration has caused great suffering Look at the North west if it was not treasonable, he would say look at the glorious South Bigler said he was glad to hear the express as that Democracy would have civil liberty, whatever else might be lost Edwards said he would rather die than to live in favor with the Abolition Administration If the war should continue till his son becomes a man he will send him to join the rebel army

These were the main ideas of the speeches, and they were all applauded—even Edwards' promise Nothing was said about the war Nothing against Jeff Davis Nothing in favor of maintaining the unity of the country; at all costs All meant that rather than submit to arrests such as those of Vallandigham or Kewen, they would raise the standard of civil war

Newspaper Misrepresentation

The steamship Sierra Nevada cleared to day for Victoria, with a small amount of merchandise, valued at $9,961 14 —Alta California, July 8

We quote the above paragraph to illustrate the studied omission, by the San Francisco papers—for the Alta is by no means the exception—of all allusion to the large and valuable trade between San Francisco and Portland Now, as the Sierra Nevada and sister steamships are not exclusively engaged in the San Francisco and Victoria trade, but include in that trade, as well as in their clearances way ports, it is a little remarkable that the San Francisco journalists do not appear to be aware of the fact

We would ask the commercial reporter of the Alta if he does not know that on the 7th July, 1863 the Sierra Nevada cleared for Victoria and way ports, with a cargo of 847 tons, of which 820 tons were for Portland alone? and is he not aware that the coast steamers running north from San Francisco depend mainly upon Portland for their business and support?

We presume the journalists of San Francisco are aware that by far the largest portion of the gold shipped from the North to San Francisco is from Portland, their reports to the contrary notwithstanding

We would be pleased to learn from the journalists of California in what manner it conduces to their interests to misrepresent the business of the Northern coast? We never knew a journal to become rich in avoiding the truth when to meet it fairly would serve a better purpose

THE VICKSBURG DEFENSES MANNED BY NEGROES —A letter from near Vicksburg to the Cincinnati Gazette says the rebels have gangs of negroes impressed and chained together to work on the defenses, for they can neither spare the soldiers nor permit the negroes to run at large Our camps are peopled with negroes, who joined us on the march from Jackson to Vicksburg whence they came on passes issued by the commandant, and who assert that their fellows in the city would be only too glad to escape into our lines if they could. Negroes have been seen on their works tending the guns from which our sharpshooters had driven the regular gunners, and it is evident that the negro is still an element of strength to the rebel army

Letter from Olympia

Olympia W T July 14 1863

Friend Gosnell

It is a matter for rejoicing to some and a source of sorrow to others, that everything sublunary has an end, the effect which either reverence or grief is the object or subject upon which the thing has contributed in one and among many other things with which our correspondent has to do would be glad to report that the building and raising more smoking roads over which his journey from Columbia River to Puget Sound has of late been subjected, but future and hope to an abiding blessing

We editorially are well known, and glad both, but to attempt a description of what we endured to get here would be more than duty to ourselves at this always We only desire to return thanks to Capt Ollason of the steamer Portland for shielding us from and to Capt Winsor of the Canada Steamer Lass for permitting us to ride in their Chief was not known and they did not fall on us more than half a dozen times on the way however a middle watch had stumps with only three pennies nails driven in the seat We appreciated this as a special favor and paid our $15 fare without a murmur, knowing that many who had to travel over this road could boast such a rig

We saw but few of the inhabitants of the wilderness on the way over and would have been surprised had we seen more as the trees were excessive wet but a birch man and beast sought shelter beneath the low ring branches of the lords of the forest, whose majestic grandeur called forth expressions of praise, amounting almost to audible reverence

APPEARANCE OF THE COUNTRY

We found the appearance of this country and town all at the same as it was two years ago Surveying and town lots are the same familiar objects to greet us as of yore, with the exception of occasionally a stranger who has come to take the place of those who have gone to that bourne from whence no traveler returns The population keeps at a stand still, or the value as it was five or six years ago and the improvements of the country keep pace with the population some farms have come to a full standstill while others have been slightly improved in fact we believe that if a close estimate was made of the present products of the country with those six years ago the difference would scarcely be perceptible We have not had an opportunity of testing the testacious qualities of both crow and cultivated grains, and cannot say whether there has been any change to their palatable delicousness or not we presume not however as their cultivation has improved but little from the wild state

RECEPTION OF THE WAR NEWS.

The good people of this village were aroused at about 5 o'clock on Monday morning, the day of election, by the firing of cannon, bursting of stumps, roaring of a thirteen inch stub and twist, loaded with shrapnel ringing of church and dinner bells and a general clapping of hands all round The glorious news of the defeat and rout of the rebels in Pennsylvania and Maryland and the probable capture of more than one half of Lee's army, the surrender of Vicksburg and the pressure of Rosecrans upon Bragg, all combined and coming in one grand dash upon us at such an early hour, cause shall never extinguish as was never witnessed in this quiet town before The firing of cannon, waving of flags and ringing of bells continued, with but a few minutes intermission all day, and until late at night, accompanied with a grand illumination of every house and window in town also, a display of fireworks, etc etc The illumination of the town presented a very gay and elegant appearance and the principal street was pretty well filled with ladies and gentlemen children and Indians all out enjoying the cool air after a sultry day and joining in the universal joy manifested over the good news At about 10 o'clock P M an independent free and jolly crowd gathered without distinction of age, color or sex, and proceeded to the headquarters of the Governor Secretary, Surveyor General and other Federal and Territorial officials, and politely requested them "in a calm and quiet manner" to come forth in robes of innocence and respond to the impulses of patriotism and assist in sending up cheers and huzzahs for the success of our Union arms

THE ELECTION

I have delayed writing to you until the present time, in order to send you as much of the returns from the election as possible Thurston county has all been heard from and the returns give Rayner sixty majority over Cole Turney received only thirty eight votes in the county The Capitol, or Olympia precinct, gave Rayner forty majority over Cole The vote of the county was very light, the whole vote cast only amounting to about three hundred and seventy five No returns have yet been received from any of the counties down the Sound, but taking the result of the election in this county as an example, it is confidently believed that Rayner's majority west of the mountains will reach two hundred and fifty or three hundred, probably more The result in this county is not to be taken as a fair representation of the Union sentiments of the people as the wide-spread disaffection of the people against the Federal appointees of the Territory had a heavy influence against the Union nominees It is now believed that Mr Rayner received a heavier support down the Sound than in this county The friends of the Government have much hope that their candidate has been elected The Union county ticket including members of the Legislature have been elected in this county by majorities ranging from twenty five to seventy five The majorities in the county ticket would have been larger had some of the candidates clearly defined their position on the Turney fight against some of the dishonest Democratic leaders One or two of the candidates were considered to be on what fish, and therefore lost votes

Pierce county gives Rayner sixteen majority over Cole Turney 100 The whole Union county ticket is elected by a hundred majority The returns at Fort Steilacoom did not vote off rib do so U E H

UNITY OF COMPROMISE —The idea of compromise has been a mockery and a snare from the beginning, but we owe it now to the candor of the rebels that it is now better understood They have always declared that they will never consent to return but at a time with greater emphasis than since the election of successors of the opponents of the Administration They build these successes simply as the harbingers of the acknowledgment of their independence Not a public journal nor a public man in the Confederacy gives them any other construction Not one of them so far as is known here with whatever antecedents, has ventured to admit either the

The Steamboat Inspection Laws

An impression prevails among some of the steamboat owners in this district that section 4 of the Inspection laws of the United States ... oppressive and erroneous

By Section 2d of the Act of Congress, approved July 7, 1838 it is provided that the owner master or agent of any steamboat or vessel propelled in whole or in part by steam, shall procure an inspection of the hull boilers and machinery of such steamboat or vessel before she shall proceed to the United States ... for the purpose of taking on board any ... goods wares or merchandise or passengers for hire Lawfully transportable upon any of the bays lakes rivers or other navigable waters of the United States For every violation of this provision, the owner of such vessel shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $500, and the boat in question shall be liable to such amount and may be seized and libelled therefor in the U S District Court

The amendment of this Act of August 1852, commonly called the Steamboat Act provides a new mode of inspection for such boats as may carry passengers but as to such as only carry goods and merchandise only, leaves the laws of 1838 unchanged

By the latter Act, in the request of the master or owner of the boat the District Judge is authorized to appoint an inspector to inspect the boat

The hull must be inspected once a year and the boilers and machinery once in six months

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD —The advertisement first printed in our last by Farnham and Sons of American railroad iron wherewith to commence laying the track of the great Pacific Railroad marks an era in our country's history and progress which we cannot suffer to pass without remark It is the best possible refutation of the idle tales in circulation imputing that this great enterprise was not to be pushed vigorously and steadily to its completion, but is to be somehow rendered subservient to personal interests and sinister purposes

Regarding the Pacific Railroad as not more the boldest and grandest, but as the most important and beneficent undertaking of our time and believing that it will, with the generous aid accorded to it by Congress prove highly remunerative to its stockholders we rejoice to learn that it should be pressed forward with such energy that the days spent in its construction shall not exceed in number the miles of its length and we believe that every dollar of the stock will be taken and duly paid for by our own people, if the opportunity to do so be fairly afforded them Let it be built with cash in hand and everything bought at cash prices and we shall confidently expect not merely that it will pay good dividends from the day of its completion but that the first completed third of it—that which stretches from the Mississippi to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains—will pay a fair interest on the cost, even before the residue is constructed

Let this work be constructed—as we are assured it will be—with a single eye to the great National interests involved in its success and with rigid economy in its disbursements, and it will prove an honor to our country and to the nineteenth century —N Y Tribune June 11

CHICAGO July 10 —We have nothing of importance from the Armies of the Potomac or Tennessee

BOSTON July 10 —A fleet of privateers is cruising in the Sea Islands fishing grounds and is doing much damage A Government steamer has been sent after her

A DIPLOMATIC QUARREL —The quarrel between General James Watson Webb and Minister to Brazil and Mr Thornton, the British Minister, which has been the subject of debate in the British Parliament and has attracted general attention on both sides of the Atlantic has a most puerile origin It appears that the two ministers were engaged in having whist the Russian and Prussian ministers also participating in the game Webb, who is uncommonly talkative and Mr Thornton demurred Webb talked so much General to put him out

At this, Webb flared up and in a note subsequently written, declared that it was language for more fitting an English groom than an English minister addressed within written oath [illegible] ever again impertinent to me I shall punish you

Further than this the General wrote an impertinent letter to Earl Russell for which he has been severely rebuked by our Government

WEATHER —The weather is rapidly becoming warmer, the thermometer indicating 80° in the shade and the days exceeding in length those of eight degrees as compared with the previous days

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.—We crave the indulgence of those of our subscribers who have failed to receive their paper during the past few days. This apparent neglect is owing to the severe illness of the carrier who supplied them. They will be promptly forwarded in future.

THE SPORTING SEASON.—The famous races of Portland, which usually take place at uncertain periods, commenced last evening, just before sunset, on one of the retired roads leading to Hillsboro. There were only two horses entered to compete for the stakes—four bits aside—which were duly deposited in the hands of a responsible stakeholder. The distance was a straight dash of five hundred yards. At half-past 5 o'clock the mettlesome steeds were brought to the scratch, neither of them appearing very anxious for the contest. The favorite was a spectral piebald horse, with weakly knees and scanty tail, but rejoicing in the possession of unexceptionable bone. His owner and rider was a melancholy man, with a white hat and red nose, well known among the sporting fraternity of Portland. The opponent of the piebald was a formidable bay mare, which was endowed with great length of limb and a chronic bronchitis of many years' standing. The envied possessor of the bay was a mysterious stranger with one eye. A legend circulated that he was an ex-member of the Legislature, who, being disappointed in something, retired to grieve over the instability of mundane affairs and the cultivation of cabbages. The betting was two to one on the favorite. After several false starts, they got off well together, the piebald leading, and rapidly increasing the distance. Victory appeared certain for the favorite, when, alas! his weakly knees gave way, and horse and rider lay sprawling in the dust. This unforeseen accident slightly afflicted the melancholy man with the white hat, who, having assisted his nag to rise, appeared more lugubrious than before. The bay now rushed rapidly past, amid the lusty cheers of its partizans. When about fifty yards from the winning post, a ferocious bull-dog rushed forth from the domains of a solitary wood-chopper, and the frightened bay plunged madly into the woods, the bull dog following with a perseverance worthy of a better cause. The melancholy man, seeing the condition of affairs, walked the piebald to the winning post, and claimed the stakes; but we cannot describe his emotions when he discovered that the responsible stakeholder had departed. Ominous whispers are afloat regarding the fate of the retired legislator and his steed, as the ferocious bull-dog aforesaid was observed some time afterwards slowly returning to his abode, licking his lips with a satisfied air, and looking suspiciously sleek and robust.

"WHAT DID YOU DO WITH IT?"—Yesterday morning, while passing along the upper end of First street, we were very much amused by a conjugal scene between an elderly lady and her offending spouse. It appears that the loving couple had on the previous day brought an ox-team load of vegetables to the city for disposal, and John, who was salesman, was proved, on examination of his accounts, to be a purloiner to the extent of $2, which the old lady suspected had been expended in the purchase of exhilarating liquids. This discovery aroused her just and virtuous indignation, and she rated the luckless John most soundly. "John! John!" she exclaimed, savagely brandishing an enormous umbrella, "you know you got $2 for potatoes; what did you do with it?" Here she made a skillful pass at John's hat, but missed. John thrashed the ox-team most unmercifully, to hide his emotion, and received therefor a thrust in the waistcoat that doubled him up. John looked unutterable things, and proceeded on his way home, "a wiser and a repentant man."

THAT NUGGET.—Through the courtesy of Messrs. Fuller & Co. we had an opportunity last evening of inspecting a very remarkable and valuable nugget, which they have just received from the Boise mines. It is a mixture of gold and quartz, shaped like an egg, perfectly smooth, and has evidently been washed from placer diggings. It weighs 29½ ounces, and is valued at $225. Messrs. Fuller & Co. inform us that it will be on exhibition at their office for a few days longer. Those who have gold dust, quartz, &c., to dispose of, would do well to see Messrs. Fuller & Co., who pay the very highest prices for every species of treasure.

RAN AWAY.—About 6 o'clock last evening, a team standing near the corner of Front and Washington streets, took fright and plunged and kicked and ran in a most alarming manner. Fortunately, they were stopped before they had proceeded far. One of the horses was slightly wounded, which we believe was the only damage sustained.

MEETING OF TAXPAYERS.—A school meeting of the taxpayers of School District No. 1 will be held at the district school house, this evening, at half-past 7 o'clock, for the purpose of levying a tax to defray the school expenses for the ensuing year, and to elect a clerk.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Augustus Seymour was brought before the recorder charged with depositing a load of nuisance in D street, in violation of ordinance No. 142. After hearing the complaint read by the court, the defendant admitted that it was of rather a bad odor, and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 and costs.

THANKS.—We thank our friend Thayer, Purser of the Constitution, for kindly furnishing us election returns in advance of the mails.

DR. D. JAYNES' EXPECTORANT AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and have had so large a sale, and given such entire satisfaction wherever they have been used, that it is only necessary to say to the afflicted, that they can rely on these remedies as being just what they are represented to be. They are mild in their operation, but certain in their effects, and will be found to be the best cure for all diseases of the throat, lungs and chest, that has ever been discovered. They are now in use in all parts of the United States, and in many of the countries of the Pacific Coast, and are fast taking the place of all other remedies.

Diseases of the Lungs & Throat, terminating in CONSUMPTION, many of whom might have been cured, had they only known of the virtues of these remedies, where the sufferers have been deceived in procuring compounds from which they were suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,
SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT,

while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, and thus restore the perfect operation of the former. Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

COPY OF CERTIFICATE.—Chester Co. Pa., Sept. 15, 1858.

DR. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not give me relief in many years, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured.

NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan 15 1860

DR. D. JAYNE, Esq. New York—SIR: As you will know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, as I was told, for the last two years, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion, I began the well known (but not then known as yet) EXPECTORANT of Dr. Jayne of Philadelphia. Three days after taking commenced to relish my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free. I am now quite another man, and my general health has much better.

I remain, my dear Sir, with esteem, your servant and friend,

J. B. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31 1860.

DR. D. JAYNE.—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having destroyed the hopes of recovery. During the fever she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well.

J. H. COFFMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co. Pa. July 25, 1863.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. During which time he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day. JOHN HENRY.

We can add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true.

DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can truthfully say that I have never known any, however debilitated he may be, injured by it in the least. I will continue to sell the article, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned to the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses you an hour after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have an Ulceration or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa or it reduces the state of the bowels, take Pain Panacea, and they will soon be cured.

If you have a painful swelling, bathe the part affected with Pain Panacea, and the swelling will soon be reduced.

The Work of the Sanitary Commission

[From the New York Evening Post May 10th.]

The United States Sanitary Commission has been in existence now nearly two years. It was formed originally by a number of gentlemen well known either as physicians or persons prominent in charitable works. Its object is to do for the health and comfort of our soldiers, what the army surgeons and army supplies could not do. It was also intended, from the first, that its agents should pay particular attention to the health of the camps. From the reports of these agents, inspectors and other servants, it was proposed to compile special reports on the health of armies; and these are already of great and permanent value.

The Commission was authorized and ordered by the President, the Secretary of War and the Surgeon General, who assigned it special duties, and granted it certain special powers and privileges.

Its distinctive feature, however, is that it is not a Government undertaking, but a private and supplementary enterprise of the people of the United States, dependent for its support from first to last on their voluntary contributions. Fortunately, the able hands under whose superintendence the Commission came into being, drew to it, at once the confidence of the community, and its useful labors amongst the soldiers have been sustained by contributions more and more liberal, as the value and magnitude of the work it was doing was more fully recognized.

Since its organization in 1861, the Sanitary Commission has expended nearly four hundred thousand dollars. At the present time it disburses, for the benefit of the sick and wounded of the army, about one thousand dollars and ten thousand articles of clothing each day. From the battle of Murfreesboro to the first of May it distributed over eleven thousand packages.

The work of the Commission falls under the following heads. First, a system of inspection, general and special, for the prevention of disease and the investigation of wants. Second, a system of general relief, for the production, transmission and distribution of needed supplies not furnished by Government. Third, a system of special relief, for procuring papers, pay, transportation and pensions for discharged soldiers and all those who require such help. Fourth, soldiers' homes. Fifth, a hospital directory. Sixth, a system of transportation of sick and supplies by Sanitary Commission cars and steamers. Seventh, a system of sanitary publications, for the dissemination of sanitary knowledge.

We have almost eight hundred thousand men in the field. Of these, it is estimated that at any given time one hundred thousand are sick or disabled, in regimental hospitals, convalescent camps and general hospitals. After a great battle this number is suddenly increased. Up to a certain point, and in a methodical way, the Government cares for these sufferers by its surgeons and other agents. What these are unable to do or what the regulations of the service do not provide for, that the Sanitary Commission stands ready to supply. It supplements the care of the Government, and aims to exercise a special care over each individual soldier; to see that he has all he needs of food, clothing, medicine and comfort, to step in at that point where he is left by the Government, and carry him on with all tenderness, till he is able to take care of himself.

So well has this great work been performed by the good and able men who conceived this project, and by the agents who have come to help them, that the Commission has long ago won the esteem and confidence of the public to that degree, that now more than three fourths of all the contributions made by the people for the benefit of sick and wounded in the army pass through this channel.

In the camp the Commission employs general inspectors, surgeons, who accompany the army and keep watch over camps and hospitals, remove the causes of disease, investigate the wants of sick and wounded, and distribute stores where they are needed. In the hospitals it employs special inspectors to examine their condition, and visitors to comfort and administer consolation to the suffering. Near all important bodies of troops it collects depots of stores, in charge of storekeepers who issue upon the requisition of the surgeons and distributing agents.

When the disabled soldier leaves the camp for his home, he finds on his way Soldier's Homes, set up by the Sanitary Commission at various central points, as at Washington, Baltimore, Louisville, and Cincinnati, where he finds comfortable quarters, kind care, food, medicine, clothing, whatever he needs. Up to May 1st, seventy five thousand men had been entertained in these Homes, which have become one of the most important and beneficent branches of the labors of the Commission. Here those who are waiting for their papers or their pay receive help and advice, as well as board and lodging.

When the sick or wounded soldier arrives at the hospital, his name is at once placed on the Commission's Hospital Directory. Of these two are kept, one at Washington and one at Louisville, besides local Directories at Philadelphia, New York and Cincinnati. On the 1st of May, the Washington Directory contained seventy thousand names, that at Louisville seventy-six thousand. At these two points reports are received from all the army hospitals, and a friend or relative inquiring by letter after a soldier wounded or sick, most often receives particulars of his whereabouts and condition by return of mail. Hospital cars, and steamboats fitted up for the reception and care of sick and wounded, have been provided by the Commission.

Lastly, it has accumulated an immense and invaluable mass of facts and experience in regard to the health of armies, which, when digested into a volume, at the close of the war, will form the most important contribution ever made to army hygiene.

This is the work the United States Sanitary Commission has done and is doing. It is a work the people of the United States have reason to be proud of for it is their work—it is a private enterprise of the nation, and it has been successful in every way.

Somebody advertises for agents to sell a work entitled "Hymenial Instructor." A contemporary adds, "the best Hymeneal Instructor we know of is a young widow. What she don't know there is not much use in learning."

An Irishman direct from the sod had got into a muss and was knocked down. "And sure you wouldn't be afther batin a man when he is down?" said Pat.

"Certainly not and his antagonist.

"Faith, then I'll just lie where I am."

"Look here, printer, you have not punctuated my poem at all." "Well, sir, I am not a pointer—I'm a setter."
